Zankou Chicken

At Zankou, we prepare our foods following certain procedures to prevent allergen cross-contact, but due to the hand-crafted nature of our food and to our use of shared cooking and preparation areas, we cannot assure that our food is free from any allergens. We also use quality highly-refined peanut and soybean oils. According to the FDA, highly-refined oils are not considered major food allergens and therefore are not listed here. Each item listed below can be used in different combinations in Zankou menu items - Plates, Wraps, Catering Packages, etc. Please consider the ingredients of each product before consuming.
